INFANT BAPTISM NEW CHANGES FOR 2026

The Journey of Infant Baptism - Turning to the Christian Community

Welcome, Parents!

The day of your child's Baptism is one of joy and pride. Having your child baptized is a moment of turning to the Christian Community we share as children of God. You are bringing your baby to the Church, to pass on your own faith and your identity as a Catholic, and to have Christ claim your child as his own. Even if you are not Catholic, you agree this is an important moment of faith. You are claiming the responsibility of making adequate spiritual preparation on behalf of your child. The priest will meet with you to help you prepare in faith for your child's Baptism if this has not been done already. By now, you have probably thought about choosing godparents. We hope we can give you some help as you make that important decision. Please share and discuss this update with the godparent (s) of your child.

Baptism Prep 2026

If you are expecting to baptize your child, please make sure to join us at one of our Baptism Prep classes. Here, we will discuss the importance and depth of this Sacrament.

Monday, February 9th, 6:30–8 PM, Holy Spirit Church

Saturday, May 30th, 6:30–8 PM, Holy Spirit Church

Sunday, September 13th, Noon–1:30 PM, St. Edward Church

Friday, October 23rd, 9:30–11 AM, Holy Spirit Church

Parents must attend baptism preparation class before their child can be baptized. Godparents are also encouraged to attend. If the parents have taken Baptismal Preparation Classes within the past three years, this requirement is waived.

To register for a class, or for more information, please contact Michelle at

COMMONLY ASKED QUESTIONS

When can I Baptize my Child? You can baptize your child any time from day one of birth. You can start making arrangements for your child's Baptism even while pregnant. The church considers any child under seven years old as an infant. These children receive Baptism without going through OCIA. The Church teaches that any child who is seven years old or older has reached the age of reason and so needs a period of instruction called OCIA (Order of Christian Initiation for Adults) to receive the sacraments.

What is a Godparent? Being a godparent is not an honorary social role, it is a specific ministry in the Catholic Church. Godparents are responsible for helping the parents raise their child in the Catholic faith. This means godparents must first and foremost be people who live a life of faith themselves. They must be willing to develop a spiritual relationship with their godchildren, to get to know them and to be part of their religious life.

Who May Be a Godparent? The Church recognizes the importance of this role, so she tries to make sure that godparents are well-prepared. Godparents must meet the following requirements: 1. Fully Initiated Catholic, having received the sacraments of Baptism, Confirmation, and Eucharist. 2. At least 16 years old. 3. Living a life in harmony with the role they are undertaking. 4. Attending Church regularly and practicing the faith. 5. Shall not be a parent of the child. 6. There must be at least one godparent; if there are two, one must be a woman and one a man.

How about Godparents who are not Catholic? Godparents must be faithful, practicing members of the Catholic Church. However, if you choose one godparent, you may ask a second adult to be a Christian witness. This witness must have been baptized in a Christian church, usually Protestant. Adults who have not been baptized, for example, those who are Jewish, Muslim or Hindu, are welcome to share your family's joy by participating in the Baptism liturgy, but they may not serve as a godparent or Christian witness.

What if I am not a Catholic parent? Even if you are not Catholic yourself, the Church welcomes you to baptize your child as you are committed to bringing up your child in the Catholic faith. This is also a providential opportunity for you to begin reflecting on your own faith and salvation. Talk to us, and we will assist you to start a new life with Christ through Baptism, Confirmation, and Holy Eucharist.

What if I am not Married in the Catholic Church? You are still welcome. Your marriage is not a precondition for having your child baptized in the Catholic Church. Bringing your child to Baptism can be a moment of grace for you to consider receiving the Sacrament of Marriage. If you desire to do so, please talk to us, and we will readily help you.

Can I take a Baptismal Class elsewhere? These classes are also offered at other Catholic Churches. If the parents take the class at any parish other than this one, they must provide proof of completion by either a certificate of attendance or a letter from that church's pastor.

What do I do after we take the Baptismal Prep class? After the class and required video to watch, you will provide the parish office with approach forms and schedule the baptism. Baptisms during Mass will be celebrated the 1st weekend of the month, during either the 5 PM Mass at Holy Spirit or 10:45 AM at St. Edward. Baptisms outside the Mass will be available the 2nd Saturday of the month and may include multiple baptisms depending on priest availability.

What if I have an emergency baptism? Contact the local priest and request an emergency baptism.

Is there a fee for baptism? We do not charge a fee for baptism. That said, you are allowed to give a gift for your chosen purpose. You are highly encourage to make a donation to the minister who baptizes your child if the minister comes from outside the parish.

THE LORD WILL BLESS HIS PEOPLE WITH PEACE.
